Dear Sir :

I enclose herewith programme of my Lecture on "Canada" (Patriotic and Historical), also report on same from "Canadian Churchman," I have given this Lecture over 70 times, and have yet to give it where it is not appreciated. No Lecture before the public to-day is as instructive and interesting to Canadians as this Lecture on our "own country."

Note-In advertising this, I would suggest the advertisement should read-

> "A Patriotic Evening," with Historical Sketches-By It. Col. Fred W. Macqueen

I have also two other Lectures:

"Imperialistic Canada"

and

"The future of the A.V.V.A."

Hoping you may place one (or more) of these in your Winter Course of Entertainments, and that I may hear from you as to a date,

I am.

The FLANEUR

SATURDAY, FEBY. 28TH, 1914

LIEUT.-COL. F. W. MACQUEEN, of Toronto, is a Canadian after my own heart. The man who has the pluck and determination—when deprived of his sight for two years—to set about cultivating a phenomenal memory and strengthening his mental powers during that period of depressing gloom, is of the material out of which a true soldier is made.

And then, with sight restored, to resolutely devote his spare time to the preparation and delivery of patriotic popular lectures dealing with important events in Canadian history, to my mind marks the gallant colonel out as a Canadian of rare patriotic devotion. I have heard two of the colonel's lectures and and on each occasion I was deeply impressed—not only by the marshalling of events and dates—the felicitous extracts and quotations from biographers, historians, and poets—the original passages of striking beauty—the fair judicial reference to our clashes with our neighbors—but as well with the marked sincerity and sanity of sentiment and the moral, aye, religious earnestness of the speaker.

Colonel Macqueen's lectures have been prepared from a Canadian standpoint, and in matter, tone and spirit are worthy of the highest commendation.

Lieut-Colonel Vacqueen,

Farliament Buildings,

Toronto.

Dear Colonel Macqueen:

I have your letter this morning enclosing programme of your lecture on "Canada". As I told you on Wonday, however, I think it will be extremely difficult to get an audience in the University this winter in view of the condition of affairs and the other lectures that have teen already arranged for. We have a special series dealing with the war every week, and after Christmas there are other engagements which I know will interfere with any additional lectures.

With kind regards, Tam,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Wr. McVicar:

If your son is going to take a theological course

I think that perhaps as good a training as any would be given to him in the English and History with the classical option, provided that in the third and fourth years he takes a certain accunt of philosophy along with it. For this course, however, honours in Greek at entrance would be necessary. Do you think that you could have his prepared for this at home? If he is unable to prepare honour Greek, he could perhaps come with pass Greek and take a new course in Orientals that is being arranged with a view to students who are going into the ministry and who wish to prepare themselves particularly on the language side.

I should advise that he should not aim at taking more than one nonour course while he is at the University. There is always danger of falling between two stools, and we advise against it. If I can give you any further information I shall be glad to do so.

Yours sincerely,

Fresident.
